

Procedure examinations for students with a disability Faculty of Humanities 2020-2021

The following information is important with regard to the special facilities for students with a disability during the examination period of December 2020 and January 2021.

Online examinations

The coordinator for students with a disability will inform the lecturer which students are allowed extra examination time one week before the examination at the latest. For online examinations no other facilities are offered to students with a disability.

Examinations both on location and online or on location

The coordinator for students with a disability will inform the lecturer which students are allowed extra examination time one week before the examination at the latest. The room will be available for an additional 30 minutes on top of the regular examination time.

Some students are allowed extra facilities during an examination, such as a quiet room or a laptop. During the corona period we do not facilitate this on campus. This means the coordinator for students with a disability will offer students the following options:

- Option 1. student will take the examination in a regular room (including extra time if applicable).
- Option 2. student will take the examination online (including extra time if applicable).

If the student chooses option two, the coordinator for students with a disability will inform the lecturer two weeks in advance at the latest. In this case the lecturer has to offer an examination online in addition to the examination on location.
